Renewing the Promise:
A Strategic Plan for Manhattan College, 2011-2025

Phase II 2015-2020

Approved by the Board of Trustees June 11, 2015
The Mission of Manhattan College

Manhattan College is an independent Catholic institution of higher learning that embraces qualified men and women of all faiths, cultures, and traditions. The mission of Manhattan College is to provide a contemporary, person-centered educational experience that prepares graduates for lives of personal development, professional success, civic engagement, and service to their fellow human beings. The College pursues this mission through programs that integrate a broad liberal education with concentration in specific disciplines in the arts and sciences or with professional preparation in business, education and engineering.

Established in 1853 by the Institute of the Brothers of the Christian Schools, the College continues to draw its inspiration from the heritage of John Baptist de La Salle, the innovator of modern pedagogy and patron saint of teachers. Among the hallmarks of this Lasallian heritage are excellence in teaching, respect for human dignity, reflection on faith and its relation to reason, an emphasis on ethical conduct, and commitment to social justice.
Strategic Vision for Phase II: 2015-2020

Manhattan College will be widely recognized for excellence in providing a distinctively engaging educational experience grounded in its Catholic and Lasallian commitment to education as both a search for wisdom and a means to contribute to the greater good of the human family. The College will enhance and expand its reputation for excellence chiefly by building on its core strengths: its Lasallian Catholic heritage, its location as a residential campus in New York City, and its ability to offer, in a medium-sized and person-centered college setting, an extraordinarily broad range of disciplinary, interdisciplinary, and co-curricular opportunities.

THE CORE GOALS

Core Goal 1  A Distinctive Learning Heritage
We will advance learning by ensuring the vitality and visibility of our distinctive core identity as Catholic and Lasallian throughout the College.

Core Goal 2  A Distinctive Learning Environment
We will advance learning by fostering student engagement and integrated learning through our distinctive environment on campus, in New York City, and with our international networks.

Core Goal 3  A Distinctive Learning Dynamic
We will advance learning through the distinctive dynamic of our integration of liberal arts and professional disciplines throughout the College.
CORE GOAL 1  A DISTINCTIVE HERITAGE

We will advance learning by ensuring the vitality and visibility of our distinctive core identity as Catholic and Lasallian throughout the College.

1.1 Promote a local and global, inclusive, and accessible understanding of the Catholic intellectual, social, and educational tradition and the legacy of Saint John Baptist de La Salle through their integration with the liberal arts and professional disciplines.

1.1.1 Continue to support the engagement of faculty, staff, and administrators in mission through pilot programs which should be integrated with existing and new faculty, staff, and administrator orientation, professional development, and formation programs.¹

1.1.2 Enhance support for interdisciplinary teaching, scholarship, and service, especially, but not exclusively, aligned with the Lasallian and Catholic national and international networks, and integrated with academic, curricular and co-curricular programs.²

1.2 Support an academic and co-curricular environment that encourages a dynamic quest for truth and assists students in the development of a mature understanding of faith and its relation to reason, including the contemporary global vision of Lasallian education.

1.2.1 Develop interdisciplinary and inter-school collaborations in teaching, scholarship, and service, with special emphasis upon serving our local and global communities.³

1.2.2 Strengthen the study of philosophy and of religion inside and outside of the classroom, encouraging interdisciplinary engagements, particularly in the areas of ethics, the Catholic

¹ Including, for example, the initiatives of the Center for Excellence in Learning and Teaching (CELT), the Center for Ethics, Instructional Design workshops, the Office of Human Resources, the College Core Identity Seminar (CCIS) program for faculty, staff, and administrators, and programs of the International Association of Lasallian Universities (IALU).

² For example, the Center for the Study of the Future of Education, the Holocaust, Genocide, and Interfaith Education Center (HGI), the Center for Urban Resilience and Environmental Sustainability (CURES), the Center for Ethics, the Center for Excellence in Learning and Teaching (CELT), the Office of Career Pathways, the Catholic Relief Services Global Campus program, the Multicultural Center, and student orientation and leadership programs.

³ For example, interdisciplinary co-majors and dual degrees and certificate programs, interdisciplinary introductory and capstone courses, interdepartmental course collaborations, service learning, and other inter-school teaching, scholarship, and service initiatives.
intellectual tradition, interfaith and intercultural understanding and dialogue, and social and racial justice.\(^4\)

1.3  Exemplify and enhance local and global civic engagement consistent with the social justice values of the College’s Lasallian Catholic identity, with particular attention to the alleviation of human suffering.

1.3.1 Encourage and support collaborative research, scholarship, and service as a means of enhancing teaching, and in particular, that which is aligned with the International Lasallian Research agenda.\(^5\)

1.3.2 Model and encourage a commitment to service by all members of the community through collaboration with professional and community-based organizations, service-learning, and volunteer work.\(^6\)

\(^4\) For example, through the Arches and Common Interest Communities (CIC), programming throughout Student Life departments, and initiatives of the Holocaust, Genocide, and Interfaith Education Center (HGI), the Center for Ethics, and the Center for Excellence in Learning and Teaching (CELT).

\(^5\) For example, supporting research initiatives of faculty and students through the Jasper Research Scholars and Fellows Programs, the Center for the Study of the Future of Education (CSFE), the Center for Urban Resilience and Environmental Sustainability (CURES), the Center for Optimal College Readiness (COCR), the Holocaust, Genocide, and Interfaith Education Center (HGI), and the Center for Ethics that are aligned with the international Lasallian research themes of the International Association of Lasallian Universities (IALU): food, nutrition, and health; sustainability and the environment; and education and learning innovations.

\(^6\) Current examples include service initiatives such as Martin Luther King, Jr. service day programming.
CORE GOAL 2: A DISTINCTIVE ENVIRONMENT

We will advance learning by fostering student engagement and integrated learning through our distinctive environment on campus, in New York City, and with our international networks.

2.1 Ensure that incoming undergraduate and graduate students have the support to make the transition to the Manhattan College community as welcomed, aware, confident, motivated, and responsible persons.

2.1.1 Further develop First Year Experience programming to be attentive to and inclusive of all cultures and backgrounds and students’ unique developmental needs.7

2.1.2 Enhance diversity initiatives in all areas of campus life, including faculty and staff recruitment as well as student leadership training.

2.1.3 Develop opportunities to enhance reflection on and awareness of culturally responsive teaching.

2.2 Ensure a safe, nurturing, engaging, and enjoyable environment with resources and services that support and challenge undergraduate and graduate students academically, socially, spiritually, physically, psychologically, and professionally.

2.2.1 Renew our commitment to ongoing curricular and co-curricular educational programs that support campus standards of conduct, with special emphasis on integrity and ethical conduct as well as acceptance of and responsibility for others.8

2.2.2 Expand opportunities for students to reflect upon the role of spirituality in their development as individuals seeking meaningful and purposeful lives and as productive members of society.9

7 Involving, among others, the Multicultural Center, Student Activities, Center for Academic Success, Residence Life, Campus Ministry and Social Action, Assistant Deans, faculty involved in the Arches Program and other faculty as well, with particular attentiveness to the growing Latino/a, international, veteran, first-generation, transfer, graduate, and SCPS populations.

8 For example, the campus Honor Code, diversity and multicultural awareness, and sexual assault prevention, Green Dot by-stander, and racial justice town hall initiatives.

9 For example, through the Office of Career Pathways, the Multicultural Center, student leadership retreats, and the interdenominational work of Campus Ministry and Social Action, Lasallians In Faith Together (LIFT), CURES, and the Holocaust, Genocide, and Interfaith Education Center.
2.2.3 Improve and continue to integrate academic and student support services with particular attention to diverse student needs.¹⁰

2.2.4 Continually assess our environment, resources, and processes to ensure alignment with our mission and goals, and that appropriate accreditations are in place to support our efforts.

2.3 Ensure that students have excellent support in their efforts to deepen the discernment of their vocation as they gain employment or continue their education in graduate or professional schools.

2.3.1 Continue to increase internship, service, and research opportunities, especially those serving our local New York City community and populations and those consistent with the heritage and core identity of the College and the International Lasallian Research agenda.

2.3.2 Enhance student opportunities by involving the alumni network and capitalizing on our New York City location and international networks.

2.3.3 Further develop the means to longitudinally track and assess career outcomes of graduating students, including success rates in graduate and professional schools and career outcomes for those who pursue postgraduate education.

2.4 Promote and model environmental sustainability throughout the campus.

2.4.1 Advance the work of the Sustainability Committee, emphasizing its foundational support in Catholic Social Teaching, in order to improve and model best practices for environmental stewardship on campus and enhance the College’s academic reputation.

2.4.2 Enhance our attention to environmental issues through curricular and co-curricular programs.¹¹

2.5 Ensure financial resources and administrative capacity to recruit and retain excellent students, faculty, staff, administrators, and trustees.

¹¹ For example, Center for Urban Resilience and Environmental Sustainability (CURES), internship and research opportunities, the Environmental Studies major, the Environmental Science major, Sustainability Committee, Green Club, Roof Top Gardening Initiative, Common Interest Communities (CIC), and the International Lasallian Research themes.
2.5.1 Ensure effective outreach to and affordability of education for excellent students, especially first-generation students and those from a diverse range of backgrounds.

2.5.2 Commit resources to recruit, retain, promote, and support the development of qualified and diverse faculty, staff, and administrators capable of realizing the Lasallian Catholic focus on intellectual contributions and a person-centered education.12

2.5.3 Recruit new members to the Board of Trustees, broadening its diversity and maintaining its tradition of excellence.

2.5.4 Ensure that the College’s library collections, information technologies, and other academic resources can fully support the range of scholarly and professional work undertaken by the students, faculty, staff, and administrators.

2.5.5 Ensure that our physical infrastructure meets the curricular and co-curricular needs of the College, including the maintenance and upgrading of facilities, and the construction of new facilities.

2.6 Continue to develop athletic and wellness opportunities.

2.6.1 Strengthen Division I athletics by improving student-athlete welfare, facilities, fan experience, and marketing.

2.6.2 Provide opportunities for students, faculty, and staff to engage in athletic, fitness and wellness opportunities.13

12 With particular emphasis on tenured/tenure-track faculty, in addition to visiting and adjunct faculty.

13 For example, through programs in the fitness center in the Kelly Student Commons, non-credit group fitness classes, and intramurals.
CORE GOAL 3: A DISTINCTIVE DYNAMIC

We will advance learning through the distinctive dynamic of our integration of liberal arts and professional disciplines throughout the College.

3.1 Transcend traditional disciplinary, programmatic, cultural, and physical boundaries.

3.1.1 Enhance the integration of the College-wide core competencies (CWCCs) across the curriculum.14

3.1.2 Continue to integrate the cultural and educational resources of New York City into the curriculum.

3.1.3 Continue to support innovation in teaching and learning through a comprehensive strategy that includes mission-grounded opportunities to use digital learning.

3.2 Advance the connection of curricular and co-curricular programs that encourage students to reflect upon and understand relationships among contemporary issues in society, professional and technical trends, faith and reason, and traditional academic topics with a diverse, multicultural, and global perspective

3.2.1 Develop themed learning communities open to commuter and resident students.15

3.2.2 Increase the participation and the diversity of students in study abroad, study away, foreign language programs and activities, especially through Lasallian and Catholic networks.16

14 See College-wide educational goals in Manhattan College Course Catalog.

15 For example, the Arches and those which integrate various aspects of the liberal arts, professional disciplines, health and wellness, spirituality, diversity, and community engagement in support of student engagement and learning.

16 For example, the Lasallian Outreach Volunteer Experience (L.O.V.E.), the International Lasallian Leadership and Global Understanding (ILLGU) program, and other programs sponsored by the Lasallian Association of Colleges and Universities (LACU), the International Association of Lasallian Universities (IALU), and Catholic Relief Services (CRS).
3.2.3 Increase opportunities for students to integrate academic and co-curricular learning, and to document progress in vocational discernment and career preparation.

3.3 Strengthen graduate and continuing education as a means to promote professional advancement, personal development, civic engagement, and service of others.

3.3.1 Continue to expand and integrate the School of Continuing and Professional Studies into the academic and administrative fabric of the College.

3.3.2 Develop additional in-person, online, and blended master’s and certificate programs designed to attract Manhattan College undergraduates as well as graduates of other institutions, with particular emphasis on serving our local community and populations consistent with the heritage and core identity of the College.

3.4 Enhance the College’s academic reputation, contributions to public knowledge, and the lifelong exchange of ideas between the campus community and the larger community.

3.4.1 As a means to raise the College’s academic reputation and awareness of contributions to public knowledge, strengthen ties between the Office of Alumni Affairs and the Office of Marketing and Communication with the academic and student life areas of the College, particularly with respect to faculty and student scholarship.

3.4.2 Strengthen ties between the Office of Alumni Affairs and the Office of Career Pathways and the School for Continuing and Professional Studies as a means to promote the lifelong exchange of ideas between the campus community and the larger community.

17 For example, through the Office of Career Pathways, the Passport Program, the Lasallian Outreach Collaborative (L.O.Co.) and Community Based Learning and Community Partnerships and Service.

18 Including, for example, the Chairs of the Academic Departments, Deans, Directors of Centers, the Office of Career Pathways, and the School for Continuing and Professional Studies.
3.4.3 Continue to develop opportunities to connect alumni and outside communities with the academic life of the College.\textsuperscript{19}

3.4.4 Enhance support of faculty and Centers in scholarship and teaching in interdisciplinary areas of high regional, national, or international interest, including, but not exclusively associated with our Lasallian and Catholic networks.\textsuperscript{20}

\textsuperscript{19} For example, the School of Science collaborations with Google and MakeGamesWithUs, the School of Arts Aquinas Lecture alumni dinner, alumni study abroad opportunities, and performance art programming such as the American Shakespeare Company performance.

\textsuperscript{20} For example, enhancing development and external funding support opportunities for tenured/tenure-track faculty as well as visiting and adjunct faculty, and the Center for Ethics, the Center for Excellence in Learning and Teaching (CELT), the Center for the Study for the Future of Education, the Holocaust, Genocide, and Interfaith Education Center (HGI), and the Center for Urban Resilience and Environmental Sustainability (CURES).
